A: Q: I'm flying into LAX on April 15. I'm anxious to see the city, but my boyfriend's mother won't let me stay with him. I'm renting a car, but I haven't had much experience driving in this area, and I'd like to know how to get from the airport to my parents' home in the Echo Park area. A: A: It is rare that the arrangements are not already in place for a parent to let a son or daughter into their home. But if they insist on a curfew, and you choose to break curfew (and I presume that you know about the curfew for minors, which is 12:30 p.m.), then you will be expected to pay rent. You are correct that there are a number of excellent public transportation services available at LAX. Lyft serves passengers at the curb for a flat fee of $3 for the first 20 minutes, plus $0.78 per minute. An UberX service operates an airport shuttle for flat rates of $30 per carload, or $15 per person. I prefer to drive my own car, and I will give you more information about some of the other options if you decide to rent a car. A: (Beware: Many services require you to provide credit card information in order to reserve a ride. Some companies even require travelers to fill out additional forms.) I always choose to drive a rental car, because I can control the driving speed, etc., and usually avoid the massive parking fees. Here is a list of service available to you from LAX:
